

Rare Withdrawn E.T. (Extra Terrestrial) LP Vinyl Special Edition Box Set. This box set comes with Japanese Obi strip and includes a 7 track LP vinyl record, a Japanese 8 page booklet with tests and info in Japanese, a 24 page color booklet featuring stills from the film, script excerpts, lyrics and credits, plus a fold-out large glossy poster with Michael and E.T.

Michael narrated the story and sings "Someone In The Dark", a wonderful unreleased song, written just for the Storybook and dedicated to ET The Extra Terrestrial character.

This album set is very rare because CBS sued MCA Records and claimed they had signed a new deal with Michael in 1982 and were about to release Thriller that December. For this reason, the production had to be withdrawn due to this conflict of interest between the 2 record companies, as per a court order against MCA. As with all withdrawn items, it became one of the rarest items ever and this is the rarest version released in Japan, totally different from the US Vinyl and UK Cassette versions.
